

THE GOOD NEWS IN 3 CIRCLES

A Quick Start Guide for Leaders and Parents

INTRODUCTION

Most people who take their step in trusting Jesus and confessing Him as Lord do so during childhood. And so, any time we interact with children, we have the opportunity to lead them to Jesus.

For youth and adults, 3 Circles is a visual representation designed as a helpful method to explain the gospel in a quick and accessible way. It has proved successful in the U.S. and abroad.

The Good News in 3 Circles booklet is designed to reach children and ignite their passion for Jesus. This booklet will help children who are 6 years old or older take their first step in understanding the gospel using the popular “3 Circles” illustration and God’s Word. It explores topics such as sin, repentance and trust.

Along with this leader video, the children’s booklet demonstrates how you or your child can use this method when explaining the gospel to children and their friends.

PRESENTATION

Using “The Good News in 3 Circles” to lead a child to understand the gospel and put their trust in Jesus is the purpose of this booklet.

Children who have decided to follow Jesus can learn to replicate the 3 Circles presentation to share the gospel with their friends and family.

When guiding a child, go over each presentation element, drawing as you go along. Then, ask the child to follow each step with you as they draw the illustration themselves. After going through the entire 3 Circles gospel presentation, have them practice independently and then share the presentation with you.

FOLLOW-UP

Be prepared for immediate follow-up with a child who hears the presentation and wants to follow Jesus. As a leader, make sure you share the child’s decision with their parents. Parents and leaders, reach out to your pastor or children’s minister for next steps and discipleship opportunities.

Encourage children to share the 3 Circles presentation with their family and friends and invite those they share with to come to church and learn more about what it means to follow Jesus.
